

Revision Of T-H Law Needs Help Of Democrats

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Ives (R-NY) urged today that Republicans seek a "common denominator" with the Democrats in an effort to avoid a political fight in Congress over Taft-Hartley Act revisions.

Ives said in an interview he believes President Eisenhower's 1952 campaign promises for changes in the act can be achieved only through Democratic help.

Strike Ban To Stay

"I do not believe in having either a Republican or a Democratic bill," he said. "Any such measure would only come back to plague those who sponsored it. We must find a common denominator with the Democrats."

Ives, who worked closely with the late Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) on proposed revision of the act, said he does not believe Congress will be willing in the next session to change the national emergency provisions of the present law, under which such strikes are banned for at least 80 days.

Ives has proposed an amendment which would outlaw strikes in major industries whenever the President declares a national emergency, but he said he would not push this proposal.

Some Amendments Needed

Ives said he and Taft had reached agreement before the latter's death on proposals which would legalize the closed shop in certain industries — construction, printing, shipping, amusement and some others.

He said he thinks the Senate committee could agree on amendments to permit some forms of secondary boycotts, to allow striking workmen to vote on union representation and to define state and federal government jurisdiction in the labor field.

The New York senator said he favors extending the anti-Communist oath requirement to employers. It applies now only to union officials.

St. Louis Awaits Legionnaire Jam

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The American Legionnaires are coming to town next week, and every hotel and tourist court for 25 miles around is booked solid.

Some 35,000 members of the legion and its auxiliaries are expected for the legion's 35th national convention. More than 5,000 rooms in private homes have been promised to take care of the overflow.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon and three Cabinet members head the list of speakers for the convention proper Monday through Thursday.

The grand parade, always a highlight of the meeting, will start at 10 a.m. Tuesday. Legion officials say it will require 10 hours to pass a given point, with about 100,000 persons, including about 250 bands and drum and bugle corps, marching in it.

The advance guard already is streaming into town. Preconvention events will include a speech at 12:15 p.m. Friday by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), chairman of the Senate investigating committee. He will speak before a joint meeting of the legion's commissions on foreign affairs, Americanism and security.

To help guard against shenanigans such as those that marred conventions several years ago, a special service committee of 410 legionnaires has been formed. The members are St. Louis policemen, Missouri highway patrolmen and St. Louis County officers.

Legion officials say they aren't expecting such trouble this time. David H. Fleischer, executive vice president of the St. Louis Legion Convention Corp., said damage claims have not exceeded $500 for any of the past five national conventions.

Nixon and Secretary of the Navy Robert B. Anderson will speak Monday. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles Wednesday, and Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson Thursday.

Gunman Scoops Up Over $5,000

RIDGEFARM, Ill. (AP)—Police believe the youthful blond gunman who robbed between $5,000 and $6,000 from the Ridgefarm State Bank Tuesday, has made his escape into Indiana, Sheriff H. M. Culp of Vermilion county reported Tuesday night.

Miss Betty Mason, assistant cashier, alone in the bank, said the armed robber ordered her into the vault and locked it.

Sheriff Culp said the gunman apparently made a leisurely search of the teller's cage, and took all the cash in sight.

State and local police in Illinois and Indiana set up road blocks but the green sedan, believed to be the getaway car, was not seen again.

Police said Miss Mason apparently was unharmed by the robber or her imprisonment in the vault.

Sheriff Culp said the robber's technique was similar to that in three other recent bank robberies in Indiana.

A total of more than $42,000 was obtained in June and July when a lone bandit held up banks in Indiana at Hamlet, Evansville and Bourbon.

Detroit Bingo Vote Inexcusable, Citizens League Officer Says

DETROIT (AP)—The executive secretary of the Detroit Citizens League contends that the Common Council decision to take an advisory vote on bingo is "inexcusable and inconceivable."

Chester Morse sent a letter to the council Tuesday after it had made preliminary plans to ask voters to say in the Nov. 3 election whether they favor amending the state Constitution to legalize charitable bingo and raffles.

Morse said:

"An advisory vote on any matter usually is inexcusable, but to take an advisory vote on a question which the Council can do nothing about is inconceivable."

Congress May Be Cautious On Spending Cuts

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—Before the Russians announced their hydrogen explosion, President Eisenhower had money troubles enough.

He was searching for new places to cut government spending. Defense and foreign aid spending looked like good targets. But the fact the Russians are working on the hydrogen bomb may make Congress cautious about cuts in those two places.

Billions Chopped

The Eisenhower administration found a way to chop about nine billion dollars off the total Truman asked Congress to approve. Then Congress chopped about another 3½ billions off what Eisenhower asked.

The net result: Congress voted $61,211,000,000. At first glance that might seem all the money that was to be spent in the fiscal year which began on July 1.

But it isn't. In previous years Congress has appropriated many billions which wouldn't be spent until this present fiscal year, mainly to pay for war supplies to be delivered this year. As a result of this, the Eisenhower administration began to get gloomy about the national debt.

Congress has set a limit of 275 billion dollars on the national debt, which is another way of saying no administration can do any borrowing that will push the national debt above 275 billion.

Tax Revenue Drops

Just before Congress finished its 1953 business, the national debt stood at 272½ billion. The Eisenhower administration looked at that figure — just 2½ billion below the limit — and wondered would it have enough money on hand to meet its expenses until Congress returned next January?

If not, the government would have to borrow more money. But it couldn't borrow more than 2½ billion dollars. To play it safe, the administration asked Congress to raise the limit to 290 billion.

Congress refused. The Eisenhower administration told its departments and bureau heads to do some more expense cutting.

In 1954 the government would lose about eight billions in revenue if Congress lets certain taxes end or be reduced. The excess profits tax on corporations is due to end Dec. 31. Individual income taxes are to drop about 10 per cent. In April more losses are due in excise and regular corporation taxes.

With all this staring Eisenhower in the face, the Russians triggered hydrogen.

Reds May Release More POWs Than Originally Promised

PANMUNJOM (AP)—Another 400 U. N. soldiers returned from North Korean stockades today amid indications the Reds will send back some Americans handed jail terms and possibly more prisoners than they originally promised.

Two of 133 Americans who crossed into friendly hands today said some fellow Americans sentenced to prison for "instigating against the peace" were awaiting repatriation, possibly in a day or two, at Kaesong.

Attitude Changed

The apparent switch in the Communist attitude toward these prisoners followed protests by the U. N. Command that the Reds were holding back dozens of men on trumped up charges.

Along with 133 Americans, the Reds returned 17 British and 250 South Koreans today, the 22nd day of the big exchange.

And 150 Americans and 250 South Koreans will be handed over Thursday, the Reds said.

The Reds have promised to return 12,763 Allied prisoners—including 3,313 Americans—but Red Peiping radio hinted they might send back more.

Hundreds Aboard Ship

Peiping said the Communists have been "adding to the (prisoner) list newly captured prisoners," including men captured in the final days of the war. It did not say how many.

A total of 2,128 Americans now have been returned—and many of them are aboard ships plying the Pacific on the journey home.

One transport, the Gen. John Pope, left Inchon Wednesday with 428 Americans. Three others, including a hospital ship with 104 POWs, were within 10 days, sailing time from San Francisco.

The Gen. William F. Hase, carrying nearly 450 ex-prisoners, was due to dock Saturday; the hospital ship Haven will arrive Sept. 4, and the Marine Adder, with 367, should tie up Sept. 4 or 5.

Bombers Carry Jets To Targets

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force says it has fitted the long-range B36 bomber for a new role: Taking off with an F84 jet plane in its cavernous belly, carrying it to within striking distance of a target, releasing the fighter for a strike, at more than 600 miles per hour, and then recovering it in midair.

The Air Force yesterday released for the first time photographs of the B36 in its mother role.

Both the B36 and the F84 have been described by the Defense Department as capable of carrying atomic bombs.

The six piston engines and four jet engines of the B36 give it a speed of more than 435 miles an hour and an over-all range of 10,000 miles, assuming a 10,000-pound bomb is dropped midway, or a combat radius of 4,000.

The swept-wing F84F, with its speed of more than 600 miles an hour, has a combat radius of about 850 miles.

The Air Force also disclosed Tuesday that the power of the B36 had been stepped up in new models so that it can take off at weights up to 400,000 pounds, compared with the previous 358,000 pounds. The new maximum is almost three times the maximum takeoff weight of the B29, work-horse bomber of World War II.

Big Building Bee Starts Saturday In Flint Tornado Area

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—More than 5,000 volunteers are expected to participate Saturday and Sunday in a giant project to rebuild some 186 Flint area homes that were leveled by the great tornado June 8, which claimed 116 lives.

Home owners will supply the building materials and are to have them on hand when the volunteer laborers arrive. Many building supply dealers have offered big discounts.

"Indications are that the project will become the largest building bee in the nation's history," Mayor Donald W. Reigle said.

Muskegon Marine Listed With Korea War Dead Freed As POW

By The Associated Press
A mixup involving a Muskegon Marine marked the release of eight Michigan POWs in the latest Korean prisoner exchange today.

The Marine is Pfc. Donald K. McCoy, 24-year-old son of Mrs. Walter Friend of Muskegon.

Mrs. Friend was stunned speechless when informed Tuesday night that her son had been released.

Finally, she told of receiving an official government telegram on July 28 informing her that Pfc. McCoy had been killed in action July 24.

On the following day, Mrs. Friend said she received a letter from the government changing the date of her son's death to July 25.

"Oh, I pray to God there is no mistake this time," she sobbed. "This is like coming back from the dead," the mother cried. "His voice will be the sweetest thing I'll ever hear."

Meanwhile, a check with the Marine casualty section in Tokyo brought this answer:

"No Donald McCoy ever listed as killed in action in Korea."

The report said only two McCoy's have been listed by the Marines as killed in Korea—a John McCoy of Philadelphia, and Floyd McCoy of Villa Rica, Ga.

Marine headquarters in Washington pursued the matter today. In Tokyo, Marine officials said records showed McCoy was captured July 25.

Pfc. McCoy entered service in May, 1952. He joined the 1st Marine Division in Korea last February.

France Struggling Back To Normalcy After Long Strike

PARIS (AP)—France struggled back to normalcy today after almost three weeks of dislocation because of strikes. The general back-to-work movement encountered only a few islands of resistance.

Railway trains were running again. Paris buses and subways were back on schedule. Big bundles of mail were being delivered after the long tieup. Telephone calls could be placed to most parts of France, although traffic was much heavier than normal and delays sometimes were long.

The two biggest holdout industries were the nationalized gas and electricity works and coal mines. Even here, there was some improvement. Gas and electricity were supplied throughout the strikes except for minor disruptions. In some provincial towns, the regular workers were reporting back today.

The coal mines in eastern France were starting up again with almost a full complement of workers but there was little activity in the big northern basin, the most important in France. Sufficient reserves of coal are available to avoid any pinch from a continuing strike.

The strikes, which at one time had about four million persons off the job, developed as a protest to proposed economy decrees affecting workers in government-run industries. Premier Joseph Laniel's government has not announced its final decision on the decrees.

Jilted Stenographer Admits Killing Sister Of Former Boy Friend

NEW YORK (AP)—A pretty Massachusetts stenographer was quoted by police today as admitting the slaying of her former boy friend's teen-aged sister. Officers said she apparently was shocked into the killing in a fit of anger, mixed with nervousness and fear.

After hours of protesting her innocence, a Massachusetts state trooper said Tiny Mildred McDonald, 25, had signed a written statement admitting she shot Mary Di Rocco, 14, in the Di Rocco home in Somerville, Mass.

The officer, detective Lt. David Murphy, said Miss McDonald admitted going to the Di Rocco home Monday to tell her former boy friend's mother what she "thought" of her son.

Instead, Murphy said, Miss McDonald found only Mary home and vented her anger on her.

Miss McDonald, also of Somerville, was arrested here Tuesday night by a traffic officer near Times Square after he recognized her from pictures in a newspaper.

Police in Somerville started a search for her soon after the body of the teen-ager was found Monday. The slain girl had suffered five bullet wounds while a sixth shot went wild; her throat was slashed, and her clothing was covered with oil. Police said the slayer apparently had tried to set the body afire.

Miss McDonald—dated for three years by one of the slain girl's brothers, Joseph, who married another girl last April—was questioned first by New York City police and then the Massachusetts officers.

Politics Cooking Early For 1954

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republicans are matching Democratic efforts to kick off the 1954 congressional campaign months earlier than usual.

A meeting of 1,500 Midwest and Southern women leaders in Chicago Sept. 18-19 is being enlarged to include representatives from 18 states, the Republican National Committee said Tuesday.

The Democrats have a big rally scheduled for Sept. 14-15 in Chicago, with 1952 presidential candidate Adlai E. Stevenson as key speaker.

Republican meeting plans call for a major address Sept. 18 by Postmaster General Summerfield and other speeches by National Chairman Leonard W. Hall, Governors William G. Stratton of Illinois and Walter J. Kohler of Wisconsin, and Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.), head of the GOP Senate Campaign Committee.

States to be represented are Arkansas, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas and Wisconsin.

Republicans See No Necessity To Call Lawmakers

By JAMES A.O. CROWE
LANSING (AP)—The Executive Office today interpreted a testy statement by the Republican Policy Committee as a refusal to approve a special legislative session.

A source in Gov. Williams' office said the statement "holds out no hope of cooperation in working something out" on suggestions for emergency increases in unemployment compensation.

Statement Expected

The governor, vacationing at Mackinac Island, was expected to issue a direct statement on suggestions that he call the session. It could not be learned when that was coming.

The policy committee concluded a closed meeting by issuing a statement that:

"The Republican Policy Committee would not presume to infringe upon the governor's prerogative of calling a special session x x x."

"If the governor wishes to oblige Walter Reuther (CIO and CIO Auto Workers president) by calling the Legislature into special session to consider Mr. Reuther's proposals on unemployment compensation, it is his decision to make."

Benefits Increased

"The x x x committee wishes to point out that the Republican Legislature has constantly improved the Michigan employment security law x x x."

The session was first suggested by Reuther two weeks ago after fire destroyed the General Motors transmission plant at Livonia and threw thousands out of work.

The policy committee statement was issued by Speaker of the House Wade Van Valkenburg of Kalamazoo, who is committee chairman. It reiterated that the Legislature had increased benefits 30 per cent by extending the duration from 20 to 26 weeks.

Grange Deplores Firing Of Figy

LANSING (AP)—The Michigan State Grange executive committee today charged political pressures were behind the firing of former State Agriculture Director Charles Figy.

"On behalf of the approximately 30,000 farm folks who are members of the Michigan State Grange," a statement said, "we strenuously protest the sabotage of the principles on which the Michigan Department of Agriculture is supposed to be set up."

"We deplore the tactics which have apparently been used to fire a public servant in order to place in a position of power and prominence someone who might be useful in a political way to Michigan's chief executive."

The statement said that the farmers and the public were not aware that the morale of the Agriculture Department was at a low ebb as claimed by the three Democratic commissioners who voted Figy out at a special meeting Monday. The two Republican members voted to retain him.

Timber Inventory:

Some flying has been done in Hiawatha National Forest on a project to remap from the air the forests of the entire Upper Peninsula, Paul St. Amant, assistant head of the United States Forest Service office here, reported today.

Flying began in July in eastern portions of the peninsula, and Mackinac and Chippewa counties are practically done, St. Amant said.

The project is a cooperative venture which the Production Marketing Administration, the Michigan Conservation Dept., and the Forest Service are sponsoring.

Aid Timber Management

Purpose is "to get us up-to-date reliable information on our timber volume in timber areas," St. Amant explained. He went on to say mapping was just like taking an inventory of a store. "We're inventorying our forests," he said.

The mapping is preliminary to forming an accurate, up-to-date timber management plan for U. P. forests. Before the current effort, the only maps available have been the product of photos made about 1939, which growth of timber since has made out-of-date, St. Amant said.

It is expected flying will be completed this year, before the leaves go, St. Amant said. If leaves are gone, contrast resulting from different stands of timber is not obtained, he stated.

Experts will interpret the photographs sometime next year, St. Amant said. The experts put the photos in stereoscopes and look at them in 3-D, he said. Along with the aerial photography, volume samplings of the forests are made on the ground. Volume is then multiplied by the size of areas on the photos, and volume by forest is obtained.

Photos At 10,000 Feet

St. Amant described aerial mapping as "very economical and very accurate," and map interpretation as "a highly developed art." Besides timber management, he declared, aerial photography can be used in fire control; to locate best routes for logging roads and regular roads; and for locating possible forest planting areas. Air photos properly interpreted can locate ore bodies, he said; can give a fairly good analysis of big areas of soil; and are of great help in military operations.

He explained that air photos, since they are infra-red photographs, will sort out natural green from camouflage. Out of this comes part of their military value.

U. P. Forest maps will be at a scale of four inches to the mile, St. Amant said.

The plane used in Chippewa and Mackinac Counties was a P-38, St. Amant said. Photos are taken from a height of about 10,000 feet.

Parking Meter Revenue $5,496

Escanaba parking meters are paying off—but it will take more than one year's total revenue to return the cost of the meters and their installation.

For the eight and one-half weeks since the meters were installed the total revenue for the period was $5,946.74, it was reported today by Alfred Lawrence, city comptroller.

Parking meter collections for the eight and one-half weeks included 296,634 pennies, 46,258 nickels, and 3,175 dimes. Last week was the largest so far on record, due to increased Fair Week business, with the week's total reported at $686.49.

The starting week was the lowest since the meters were installed, totaling $589.28.

Although the weekly collections have been above estimates it was pointed out that the meters will not be used so much during the winter months when the traffic volume declines.

Cost of the 584 meters and their installation was approximately

Beach To Close Here Sunday

Three phases of the Escanaba city recreation will end this week with the official closing of the municipal beach, the summer playgrounds and the baseball program, according to announcement by Art Petersen of the city recreation department.

The beach again proved to be the most popular among these three activities, as far as attendance was concerned. Favorable weather and a long hot spell had children and adults flocking to the beach in numbers much larger than usual. Youngsters took advantage of the full scale swimming program with 108 enrolled in the beginners' course. Of these 47 qualified for advancement. In the intermediate, 40 enrolled with 25 passing. In the junior life saving course, two qualified and one passed requirements for a Senior Life saving course.

No Mishaps

Satisfaction is expressed at the season's end over the fact that to date the activities were conducted without a single mishap. This satisfactory state has held true for the past twelve years. The life guards, under the direction of chief guard, Francis Lunenburg, and assistant chief, Warren Johnston were James Heiden, Jack Chriske, Fred Boddy, Paul Baldwin and Arne Dunathan. Lunenburg and Johnston are qualified American Red Cross instructors, having enrolled in courses conducted by National Aquatic Schools. The other guards hold senior life saving certificates.

Liked Play Program

Two playgrounds were open this year—Royce and Webster—and were much in use. Royce playground was open full time and Webster on a part time basis. Under the direction of Mrs. Bertha LaChapelle, an arts and crafts program was presented along with games. Much of the time was given over to molding, wood working, and crafts dealing with tin, cloth and other mediums. It was very popular with the young folks. A similar program was enjoyed at the Webster playground under the direction of Miss Joan Frasher.

Learn Baseball

The baseball program, under the direction of Paul Vardigan and Pete Kutches, was again very successful. Many boys took part, twelve teams being organized for boys ranging in ages from seven to 16.

In addition to this baseball activity there was the Little League consisting of four teams, the Little Bigger league, with six teams. As in past recent years the boys were given special instructions under the direction of Paul Vardigan. The youngsters made good progress under this able direction.

The wading pool which was in full operation at Webster playground was very popular this year. Weather conditions were ideal and hundreds of youngsters took advantage of the warm weather. The water in the wading pool is approximately 10 inches deep. The pool was under the direction of Pete Kutches.

The annual picnic to be held at Royce Park playground is expected to attract 200 youngsters. The baseball picnic to be held this week at Pioneer Trail Park is expected to attract around 150 players.

Peninsula Spud Tour Under Way

Some of the most progressive potato growers in Delta County will be visited during a three-day U. P. Potato Tour which began this morning in Houghton County, a release from William Cargo, Chatham extension specialist in farm crops and soils, said.

Noting it is quite generally assumed that all Upper Peninsula farms are small, the Cargo release said visits will be made to several U. P. farms that each year produce 30,000 to 50,000 bushels of potatoes; 5,000 to 8,000 bushels of oats; in addition to such other enterprises as dairy or beef cattle, legume seed, strawberries, Christmas trees, etc.

Experts To Speak

Dr. Thompson and D. L. Clanan of the Michigan State College department of farm crops will have a part each day in the speaking programs of the tour. Thompson, was formerly in charge of potato breeding and certification in the Province of Ontario, Canada. Clanan was for 17 years farm crops specialist in the Upper Peninsula.

Any U. P. farmer who wishes may make the tour, or any part of the tour. The group will assemble Friday morning at 9 at the fairgrounds to tour Delta and Marquette Counties.

Friday's schedule includes a visit to the Michigan Potato Growers' Exchange Warehouse and Washing Plant; and visits to the Octave Carrigan and Grey Knau farms in Cornell to see certified Russet Rurals and Cherokees and new Variety 63-13.

Also on Friday, the group will visit the Paul Van Damme farm near Watson where the pallet system of handling potatoes in field and warehouse is being installed; and will go on to the Jules Van Damme farm at St. Nicholas to see a stone picker, a self-propelled grain windrower, and a good table-stock potato program based on quality seed.

Started At Hancock

The tour began this morning at 10 at the farm of Vitton Brothers near Hancock, where the group was scheduled to see chemical weed control demonstration plots, a mechanical stone picker, irrigation equipment, and a potato warehouse converted from a dairy barn.

Other stops scheduled for today included the Best washing plant; the Aittama farm to see Lockwood bulk potato-handling equipment; and the Karppi farm, well-known for the production of foundation Sequoia seed potatoes and Bonham oats.

Thursday morning the group will assemble at 9 at the Ekola Brothers farm on US-141 north of Crystal Falls. The tour of this farm will feature tablestock potato production and storage, foundation and certified oat production, and legume seed production. Next to Butler Brothers farms on M-94 and near Randville. At 3:30 the group meets at the Steinbrecher farm near Metropolitan to hear about the local cooperative marketing program.

Polio Cases In U. P. Total 95

MARQUETTE — Marquette County had a polio case load of 56 Tuesday, equaling the highest total ever compiled for an entire year by any county in the Upper Peninsula.

One new case, a 10-year-old Marquette girl who was not inoculated during the mass anti-polio clinic a month ago, brought the county's total to the record reached by Delta County during 1952.

Three other U. P. cases reported Tuesday brought the case-load to 95 for this year. That compares with 168 cases reported for all of 1952.

Eight fatalities resulted a year ago. To date there has been one death.

No cases have been reported this year from Houghton, Keweenaw or Ontonagon counties. Besides Marquette County, the 1953 patients—most of whom received treatment in St. Luke's Hospital here—are from:

Baraga County, 9; Alger and Delta, 6 each; Chippewa and Menominee, 5 each; Gogebic, 3, and Dickinson, Iron, Mackinac, Luce and Schoolcraft, one each.

Lynchings in the United States totaled 115 in 1900. In 1951 the total was one.

Escanaba Is Embarrassed By Lack Of Approved City Jail

THE lack of an approved city jail has become quite an embarrassment to the City of Escanaba.

The city jail has been condemned by the jail inspector until repairs are made to conform to the state requirements. The county sheriff has declined to accept in the county jail city prisoners arrested for violation of city ordinances.

That leaves the city with no place to house its prisoners.

Undoubtedly the present situation will not continue for long. The city will probably make the repairs on the city jail that the state inspector has demanded. He has recommended the installation of a new floor on the jail and improvements to toilet facilities. The cost of these improvements is not too burdensome to the city.

While the repairs are being made, the city can negotiate an agreement with the county for incarcerating city prisoners in the county jail.

Actually the problem is not quite as serious as it may appear. The city does not have many prisoners. Mainly the prisoners are persons picked up for drunk and disorderly or drunk driving. They are confined until they sober up and can be arraigned in court.

The city can solve its temporary problem merely by charging its prisoners with violations of state laws rather than with violations of the city ordinances. In such cases the county would be required to accept the prisoners. The city, of course, would not receive any fines paid by such prisoners in this event.

Former T-B Patients Meet In Reunion

PINECREST Sanatorium held a reunion picnic at Iron Mountain Sunday afternoon which more than 200 former patients attended. Many of them travelled long distances to attend the event which was a grand success from beginning to end.

Among the former patients who attended the reunion picnic were a number from Escanaba and surrounding communities. All of them expressed enjoyment of the reunion and were happy at the opportunity to again visit with old friends.

The Pinecrest reunion served also to emphasize that tuberculosis is a conquerable disease. Here were more than 200 persons who at one time or other were victims of a disease which at one time was among the greatest killers of mankind. All are now well and in most cases the former patients have been in good health for a number of years.

The reunion was a grand idea, benefiting not only those who were on hand to enjoy the festivities but benefiting uncounted others who may live in fear of becoming a tuberculosis patient.

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

Question: I wonder if you could tell us why some movie and radio actors playing the part of underworld characters pronounce the word "hood" to rhyme with "good" and some to rhyme with "mood"?

Answer: Hood, in the sense of mobster or gangster, is not at all related to the kind of hood a woman wears over her head in rainy weather—although many people think that the name comes from the masks or facial disguises sometimes used by holdup men. Actually the underworld "hood" is a contraction of "hoodlum," the underworld term for racketeer, and is correctly pronounced to rhyme with "mood."

I remember well the time ten years ago when I first heard this pronunciation from—of all people—a Roman Catholic priest. He told me, when I questioned his pronunciation, that his parish embraced the most corrupt sections of the city and that he came into frequent contact with the big shots and lesser fry of the underworld. "Maybe you word experts know better," said he. "But my pronunciation is the one the hoods themselves use!"

Question: For many years I have been troubled by "farther" and "further." Will you straighten me out on this point so I shall be able to use them without worrying about whether I'm right or wrong?

Answer: "Further" and "farther" are indeed a troublesome duo, but you will have no more trouble if you keep in mind that farther refers only to physical distance ("he walked farther than I") while further refers to degree or time ("let's discuss this further tomorrow").

Question: Please explain the difference between "controller" and "comptroller."

Answer: Actually there is no difference between controller and comptroller except in spelling. The two words even have the same pronunciation (kun-TROL-er). Both designate, in American business usage, the supervisory official chiefly concerned with expenditures and accounts. Comptroller was originally an erroneous spelling of controller but has been widely adopted because many businessmen think it sounds more important.

The Doctor Says . . . Doses Of Vitamin C Will Not Prevent Or Lessen Hay Fever Attacks

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D. — Written for NEA Service

Hay fever and the allergies are always subjects which interest an enormous number of people.

Q—I have heard that large doses of vitamin C pills are of great benefit in hay fever. What is your opinion on this matter?

I. K.

A—The weight of medical opinion is that massive doses of vitamin C are of little or no value either in preventing hay fever attacks or in lessening their severity when they do come.

Q—What is the reason for severe bald spots appearing on a woman's scalp?

Reader.

A—Assuming that these spots appear rather suddenly without any obvious cause, they are known as alopecia areata. They occur on the scalp of men as well as of women. The cause is not known, but in a high proportion of cases the hair grows back as before with or without treatment after a period of weeks or months. Occasionally the hair loss is permanent and occasionally it includes the entire scalp, and even the eyebrows.

Q—Will you please say something about a disease of the bone called Paget's disease?

Mrs. C.

A—This is also known as osteitis deformans. It is a chronic disease of the bone appearing in grownups and resulting in some bowing of the long bones and deformities of some of the flat bones. It is considered to be an inflammatory condition resulting from some local disturbance in the bones, the exact nature of which is still unknown. Treatment is not always satisfactory, but often includes giving extra amounts of vitamins, calcium and phosphorus.

Q—Our 5-year-old daughter has a bad ear which I believe will need plastic surgery. Should it be taken care of now before she starts school, or must she wait until she is fully grown?

Reader.

A—A plastic surgeon should be consulted if the little girl really does need plastic surgery as it probably would be much easier to take care of it now than later on.

Q—I have had hemorrhoids removed and a fissure operated on several years ago. Now there is continual daily drainage and itching. Is there any prescription that would help?

A. L.

A—It sounds as though there was still trouble from the fissure and if this is the case I fear another and perhaps more extensive operation will be needed since it is doubtful that any medicine or prescription would clear up the condition.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Governor Dewey had a significant talk with Democratic leader Sam Rayburn the other day which indicated that the No. 1 man in securing Eisenhower's nomination in Chicago a year ago is now pretty much on the Eisenhower sidelines. Dewey has come to Washington to push his legislation for cleaning up the New Jersey-New York waterfront, and dropped in to see ex-speaker Rayburn in order to secure Democratic support.

Rayburn told him he thoroughly agreed with the legislation and would push it—which he did.

But after discussing waterfront problems, Dewey asked the Democratic leader how he thought things were going in Washington and particularly who in the cabinet was doing a good job.

"Well, this fellow Wilson is no help," Rayburn replied, referring to the Secretary of Defense, "and neither is Sinclair Weeks, or this fellow Benson, or John Foster Dulles."

"However, Ike's got a good man in Humphrey—and Joe Dodge," continued Rayburn, referring to the Secretary of the Treasury and the Director of the Budget.

"How's Brownell doing?" Dewey asked, referring to the Attorney General, who was Dewey's campaign manager in 1948.

"All right," replied Rayburn. "He knows what the score is. But most of the people around Eisenhower don't understand politics."

"And politics," observed Dewey, "is one of the most skilled sciences there are."

Rayburn concurred; then made some friendly observations about the fact that Eisenhower needed some good political advice from Republicans who are skilled at politics, such as Dewey.

"There's nothing," observed the governor of New York, "so unappreciated as unsolicited advice."

DROUGHT LOANS

When Undersecretary of Agriculture True D. Morse told President Eisenhower and southwest farmers in Denver the other day that drought loan applications "had been less than expected," he referred to a puzzling farm phenomenon.

Though Congress appropriated $150 million for the drought emergency, only a trickle of loan applications has been received from parched Southwest farmers. Agriculture Department officials in Washington are at a loss to understand why.

Final results do not reach Washington with much speed, but as of August 7, only 308 loan applications had been received—161 from Texas; 52 from Missouri; 27 from Oklahoma; 21 from Kansas; 20 from New Mexico; 16 from Arkansas; and 11 from Colorado.

Out of these, a total of 52 loans has been granted, amounting to only $697,360.

Agriculture officials theorize that the $150 million authorization for loans must have stabilized conditions. In other words, the banks must have gained new confidence from the government's action and are now granting loans to farmers direct. If loans are available through private channels, the government will not do business with cattlemen.

WASHINGTON WHIRL

Senator McCarthy is so upset over the Senate report on his weird financial transactions that he personally stormed into the Woodward and Lothrop bookstore and tried to argue them out of selling any copies of the report. When Senator Jenner of Indiana took over the senate rules committee he promptly stopped the printing of any further government printing office copies of the McCarthy report. However, Beacon Press of Boston has put out a special edition which is selling like hot cakes . . . a dozen government agencies are shopping for efficiency experts to help them trim down to fit their budgets. The Defense Department alone has set aside one million dollars for private management surveys . . . the government has sent out an appeal to scientists to invent a radar telephone, so seamen can talk to the ships they pick up on radar in a fog . . . Secretary of Commerce Weeks can't get the Justice Department to approve his new business service agency. He wants to set up advisory councils to furnish businessmen with information on business, manufacturing, and agriculture. However, the Justice Department is still afraid it may violate the antitrust laws . . . the true caught the Army with such a store of battle rations on hand that it's been feeding the surplus K-rations to G. I.s in this country, (giving them a taste of what the boys at the front had to eat) . . . CIO President Walter Reuther has told top Democrats that they'll get no CIO support or money if any deal is made with the Dixiecrats . . . Dwight Palmer, head of General Cable, may be the next chairman of the Democratic National Committee—a liberal big-businessman.

We're all finding out that a sweet disposition is no match for mosquitoes, flies and sunburn.

It makes you feel better just to think of those who think they'd be perfectly happy if they were in your shoes.

You can be glad that the weather is never-half as bad as the people who always complain about it.

'American Bomber' Gets Top Priority In Russian Buildup

TO SAFEGUARD THE NEW "AMERICA BOMBER," the most complex aircraft yet built in Russia, major bombing bases in the Soviet Union are going underground. This artist's conception of some of the new bombers in underground hangars is from the magazine American Aviation.

By ANTHONY VANDYK

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The build-up of Russia's long-range bomber force is now a top priority item in Soviet defense planning, latest information from behind the Iron Curtain reveals.

To safeguard the big new "America bomber" now starting to roll off production lines, a vast program is under way to provide air bases with underground hangars and facilities.

Hitherto strategic bombing has had a very small role in Red Air Force planning. Until the end of World War II only one per cent of all planes built in Russia were long-range bombers. Today that figure is seven per cent and continuing upward.

Blueprint of the new Soviet Strategic Air Command calls for a force of 400 six-engine "America bombers" in the B-52 performance category, backed by about 1100 four-engine models with performance approximating that of our B-50.

The four-engine fleet—Tupolev Tu-4 bombers—is now virtually complete, although production is still in full swing at 55 to 65 a month. But there are indications that plants will soon swing most of their resources to the "America bomber"—the TuG-75 (Type 31) now in limited production in the Far East.

At least two Red Air Force wings based in northwest Russia are equipped with the "America," which in its present version has turbojet engines giving a cruising speed in the 500 mph bracket and a range of 6500 miles.

One of the main mass production centers for the "America" is Molotov, one of Russia's biggest arsenals in the Ural mountains. In one of the largest aircraft factories in the Soviet Union, 24,000 workers operate around the clock in bomber production. Another factory produces 500 engines a month. Raw material comes from relatively close sources.

Establishment of U. S. Air Force bases in Alaska and at such strategic points as Thule in Greenland has made Soviet planners think twice about the "invulnerability" of production centers in and beyond the Urals, such as Molotov.

There is growing realization that no point in the Soviet Union is outside American bomber range, and that complete security can be achieved only by going underground. As yet there is only slight indication that aircraft plants are being "buried," but Red Air Force policy now requires that strategic bombers be kept in underground hangars.

Russians planners believe the complexity of the modern bomber requires that it operate from a well-equipped base with permanent facilities and a large technical staff. In time of war planes would stay underground at permanent bases when not flying, rather than be moved to auxiliary fields to prevent attack.

They admit there is danger that enemy attacks may damage runways while planes are safe underground, but point out runways are easier to repair than planes. Moreover, bases would have their own anti-aircraft artillery and protective fighter units.

The underground hangar program is still in an early stage, and it is estimated present facilities would only accommodate about 120 six-engine planes. Ultimately, life at such bases will be completely underground, although at present living quarters for personnel are still above ground.

Most common type of underground hangar is excavated out of hills on the edge of the airfield, but in flat country hangars are buried with their roofs as much as 25 feet below ground. Fuel and ammunition are similarly protected.

At the moment the Russian underground hangar program is largely restricted to the Soviet Union itself. Certain fields in Germany, northeast Hungary and the Ploesti oilfield area of Romania, however, are equipped with underground facilities.

Deepest Oil Wells Going Even Deeper

WEEKS ISLAND, La.—(NEA)—A crew of rugged oil men are making history at isolated Weeks Island in the bayou country near the Gulf of Mexico. Having just drilled the world's deepest producing oil well, they are now at work on one they hope will be even deeper.

It takes world championship performance to cause a stir here because eight of the world's 10 deepest producing wells are on and around the edge of this four-square-mile island.

The record holder is a Shell Oil Co. well that flows from a depth of 17,122 feet—about three and a quarter miles deep. The crew now is aiming the drilling bit at a target beyond 18,000 feet.

More than 100 wells have been drilled on and around Weeks Island since 1945 when the first oil was produced from the fabulous field. In all, about 260 miles of hole have been made in the search here for petroleum.

It will probably take another month or more before the new well is pushed down to the proposed 18,000-foot level. But even that will not be the deepest that man has ever drilled into the earth. The record is held by a well in Wyoming which is 21,521 feet deep, although it didn't produce a drop of oil.

Standard Oil Company of California had the record previously, with a well 15,530 feet deep in Kern County, Calif., drilled in 1949.

The new record winner was drilled in only 141 days. It usually takes about 220 days to drill below 15,000 feet. The average cost of such deep wells at Weeks Island is about $500,000.

The large investment in deep drilling here has resulted in Weeks Island becoming the largest producing field in Louisiana, with a daily allowable of more than 30,000 barrels.

So They Say

The people of the neighborhood should reconcile themselves to our being here.—Donald Howard, Negro postal worker who moved his family into a Chicago housing project.

If you are interrogated for 35 hours without interruption, you make mental somersaults and confess everything they (the Reds) want from you.—Edgar Sanders, Britisher freed by Hungarians.

To assume otherwise (that Russia doesn't have H-Bomb) would be foolhardy.—Chairman Cole (R., N. Y.) of Congressional AEC committee says U. S. defenses should be planned on belief Russia has bomb.

It would be a tragic injustice (if the public got the impression that) because a man was a POW, he had become a Communist.—Defense officials concerned over publicity on reports of GI's who went over to the Reds while prisoners.

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

GOOD SAMARITAN—Myron T. "Ted" Austad of 2200 Third Ave. S. is a good Samaritan who carries with him more than a first aid kit.

Phil Peters, news editor of radio station WMAM at Marinette-Menominee, told the story on a recent newscast.

The auto of the Glen Bottrell family of Pawnee, Ill., and the auto of the Harry Fuller family of Houston, Texas, collided head-on near Carney on US-41 in Menominee County.

The Bottrell's three children, Fuller's five-year-old daughter and her pet dog, were miraculously spared injury. Most seriously injured in the accident were Mr. Fuller and Mrs. Bottrell, Peters reported.

"Ted Austad of Escanaba, a drug salesman for Abbott Laboratories came upon the demolished cars seconds after the accident. In his car was a stock of a new drug plasma called Dextran. He donated nearly his entire supply to the attending doctor in order to save the lives of the injured parties. He then took charge of transporting the children to the hospital and seeing that they had a place to stay."

Note: Dextran is a "drug plasma" that is used in cases requiring blood plasma. The new plasma drug has been widely adopted by the medical profession. There is still the greatest need for contributions of blood by donors, since only blood can supply the derivatives needed to control diseases and restore the sick.

FAST AND SLOW—Many states, including Michigan, seek some method of bringing greater safety to their highways.

Some states are applying more stringent highway traffic laws, some are passing laws to slow traffic down—and others to speed traffic up.

For it has been discovered in traffic safety studies that the highway slowpoke, the "mope," are almost as dangerous as the speeders. They will hold up a long line of cars by driving 20 miles an hour in a 40-mile zone, until even the most law-abiding motorist is goaded into taking chances to get ahead of the roadblock caused by the "mope."

Because the "mope" is seldom involved in an accident he believes himself to be the most cautious and careful driver on the road. He would be astonished if you told him he was the cause of many accidents.

NATIVE'S RETURN—Sid B. Coffey of Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada, called on relatives and friends in Escanaba and Manistiquie the other day.

That may sound like an ordinary sort of newspaper item, but behind it the story of a man who was born in Escanaba in 1885 and came back after an absence of many years.

His father was the late E. D. Coffey, commercial fisherman, and one of a family whose members made early-day history in the Green Bay region. In Escanaba he visited a cousin, Mrs. W. P. Schuldes, and he was on his way to Manistiquie to see another cousin, Mrs. John Girvin.

"Where are all the television aerials I've been reading about?" Coffey asked, looking around Escanaba's not very impressive skyline. "I thought everybody had a TV set in the United States."

It seems that Coffey, who runs a movie theater, had been reading that TV had cut movie attendance to the bone in the U. S.

Told that the nearest TV station was more than 100 miles distant and that reception here was "somewhat spotty," Coffey appeared to be reassured that movies are not a thing of the past in this country.

Coffey's parents moved from Escanaba to Manistiquie when he was nine years old, and later they went on to settle in Canada where there was more "elbow room."

He said that he and Mrs. Coffey were intrigued by the name Escanaba and wondered as to its meaning. Told it meant flat rock in the Indian, Coffey smiled and remarked:

Winnipegoses is Indian, too, and it means "little dirty water," Coffey told me.

The Coffeys on their vacation trip back to the town where he was born took with them their pet turtle, which they have had for seven years. They have grown fond of the hard-shelled reptile through the years and could not bear to leave it behind.

A supply of food for the turtle and a pan in which water could be placed for it to bathe while it fed was also taken along by the Coffeys. But much of the time the turtle nestles in Mrs. Coffey's lap.

Draft Deferments Are Tightened Up For Young Fathers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Draft-age youths who become fathers in the future will be ineligible for deferment from military service simply because they have a child. Tightened regulations went into effect Aug. 25.

Selective service said that a registrant who is a father, or whose wife is expecting a child, must have had that fact recorded with his local draft board "before Aug. 25" if he expects to qualify for deferment solely on grounds he is a father. However, local boards may in their discretion accept late information if a registrant shows that "unusual or unavoidable circumstances" prevented

Politician Loses Mississippi Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S. Civil Service Commission has penalized a former lieutenant governor of Mississippi, Sam Lumpkin, because it found he was a leader in the "Democrats for Eisenhower" movement while holding a federal-state job.

Lumpkin resigned by request last Nov. 10 as director of the Mississippi Employment Security Commission, a job paying $9,350 a year. The Civil Service Commission announced Monday that he has been declared ineligible for re-employment by the state of Mississippi for 18 months from Aug. 21.

ESCANABA DAILY PRESS
Wednesday, August 26, 1953 — 5

The commission found that Lumpkin had violated the Hatch Act, which bars certain political activities by federal employees and state employees whose principal duties are in connection with activity financed in whole or in part with federal funds.

Lumpkin, now city attorney of Tupelo, Miss., was the first Mississippi Democrat of any prominence to support Eisenhower for the presidency.

Eisenhower lost Mississippi, polling 112,000 votes to 167,000 for the Democratic nominee, Adlai E. Stevenson.

Debate Site For New School In Wells Township

The Wells Township School Board in special meeting last night at the Wells School heard a delegation of citizens from the Five-Corners area request that a proposed new three-room school building for Soo Hill be located at Five-Corners.

John Chriske, spokesman, stated that he was not sure what had been decided in that regard, and wished to have the board explain the extent of present planning.

John Oliver presented a petition of signatures of persons from that area desiring the new school building to be located at Five-Corners. He stated that Five-Corners is a growing community. A rough count indicates that there are at least 70 families within a mile of the central point.

There are, Oliver said, about 90 children of school and pre-school age there. The school bus situation for the township would be alleviated, Oliver maintained, since these children are within walking distance of that location.

Seek Consolidation
Earl Iverson, president of the School Board, explained the hope of the Board to build up an area where there would be one grade to a teacher. Ideally, he said, children should have one teacher for each subject, but by building up an area, we are more closely approaching the standards upheld by the state. The consolidation of school facilities is recommended by the State Department of Public Instruction.

Iverson also said that the voting on the bond issue for funds for the construction of the two new schools was based on the understanding that the schools would be located at Wells and Soo Hill. Prior to this election, the Board had held open meetings at which the possibility of a Five-Corners school had been considered.

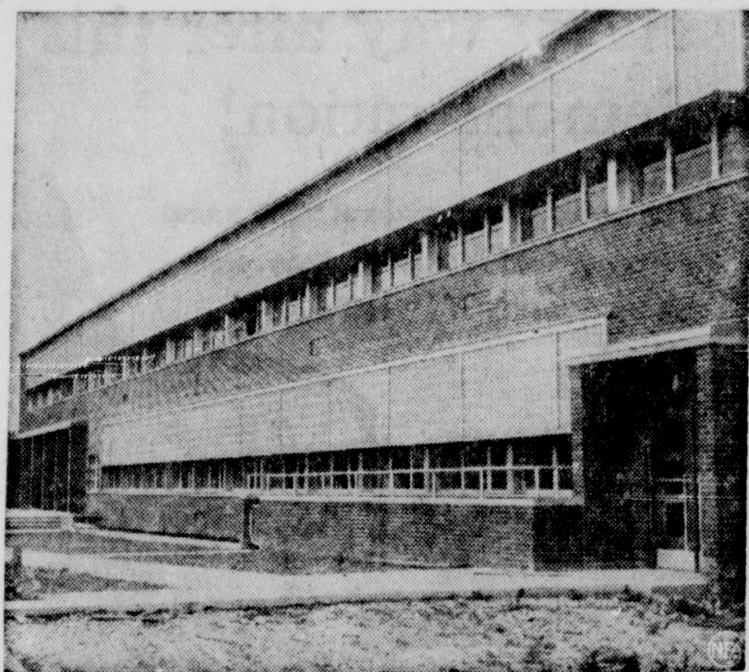

Frank Bender Jr., secretary of the School Board, explained that the survey conducted prior to the bonding election showed two crowded school areas, Wells and the Groos, Soo Hill and Five-Corners area. In Wells and Soo Hill there is the beginning of a school plant. The policy of the Board has been to consolidate schools in the reasonable center of population. By so doing educational facilities in the township compare more favorably with those of the city, he said.

Building Schedule
Don Brandt of Five-Corners asked if there was adequate playground room at Soo Hill and also whether there was room for classroom additions. There is, he said, property available at Five-Corners on the land owned by Charles Gafner. The Board informed him that there are now almost 5½ acres at Soo Hill, and as planned the new school would allow for additional rooms and also adequate playground room.

The question was raised regarding the facilities offered by the Soo Hill school building when completed. There will be six classrooms there for the teaching of 9 classes including kindergarten, or 1½ classes per room. The Board stated that it had asked to bond the township for the minimum needs because acceptance of the proposal was urgent, and the acceptance of a bonding issue for projected, future expansion would have been problematical. At the present time the kindergarten and 1st grade pupils will be attending classes only half days.

To the question regarding why

School That 'Sees' For Blind Pupils

Exterior view of the State Blind School, which will have "built-in" features to help children feel and hear about the outside world.

Because they use them to "see," children's hands get very dirty. Washstands in every room will remedy the situation.

Floors have raised tile pictures and alphabet that can be felt.

After 20 years of planning, the Ohio Blind School in Columbus, Ohio, will open its doors for 200 students on Sept. 14. The driving force behind the $2.5 million school is Dr. W. C. Scarberry, who wanted a school which by its built-in features would penetrate the dark world for the blind students. Among the many outstanding features is the music school which will have about 42 pianos. Because music is often a blind person's outlet—and his livelihood—no expense was spared to make the music school one of the finest. The school lobby will be an ever-changing museum so the children can feel model animals and small vehicles which can tell them the transportation story. A soundproof library will have many stalls of "talking books." Children tired of reading with their fingers can retire with a recorder to a stall to be "read to." Plans are under way to build a recreation building for the school.

Market Robbed On Kidnap Hoax

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A cool, well dressed bandit kidnaped a supermarket manager's small son and a niece Tuesday then robbed the store of several hundred dollars. A citywide manhunt early today had failed to unearth a clue.

The manager, Lawrence Dillard, gave up the money on being confronted with a note from his wife stating their 2½ year old son Michael and 4-year-old niece Peggy Jones were held as hostages.

About that time detectives, alerted by the children's mothers, found the tots on a downtown street. They had been released before the robbery, given a half-dollar by their abductor and instructed to buy ice cream.

The robber gained entry to the Dillard home by posing as a telephone repairman.

Mrs. Dillard said she was forced to write the hostage note, which read:

"Please do as these men tell you. They are holding me and the kids. They have Peggy and Michael with them." Her wedding and engagement rings were taken to authenticate the note.

He bound and blindfolded Mrs. Dillard and her sister, Mrs. George Jones, 22, Peggy's mother. He warned them he had "a gang in the car outside," snipped the telephone wires and left with the children. The woman finally freed herself and called police.

Reported resting quietly and doing well at St. Francis Hospital this afternoon was Walter Anderson, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Albin Anderson of Ensign, who was admitted to the hospital this morning at 10:30, reportedly as the result of being hit by an auto.

Further details were lacking.

Hypnotized Waitress Falls Back In Trance

BANFF, Alta. (AP)—A 19-year-old waitress with a "consumptive desire" to sleep in a hospital here while police search for a traveling hypnotist-lecturer. They hope he can end her trance.

The girl, Betty Black of Nelson, B. C., can be awakened and will speak and walk but she drifts back to sleep. She refuses to eat.

Police were told she fell into a trance Saturday night while attending a performance put on by the hypnotist, known here only as "The Great Dr. Zomb." She was taken to the stage to be brought out of the spell and appeared normal when she returned to her seat. At work the next day, however, she fell asleep three times.

No Lack Of Manpower In Korea, Says Hannah

SEOUL (AP)—John Hannah, assistant U. S. defense secretary for manpower and personnel, told newsmen today there is no manpower shortage and no "inducements" would be made to servicemen for enlistment in Korea.

He completed a four-day inspection and left for Tokyo to confer with Gen. Mark Clark, Far East commander.

bids for the construction of the new school are not being let out at the present time, the board explained that the money will not be available until after the first of the year.

The delegation from five-Corners explained that a bussing problem exists at the present time in their area. Children there are required to walk over a mile to the school bus, while the "rule of thumb" of the State Department of Education as explained by Superintendent Klug requires that children under 9 should walk only ½ mile and children over 9 should not have to walk over 1 mile. The Board authorized Frank Bender, Jr. to contact the County Road Commission to level off a turnout in County Road C18 which would enable the bus to pick up additional children within the prescribed limits.

To Ask Opinion
Don Brandt and Tom Needham of Five-Corners recommended that if the School Board deemed it possible that at a future date school construction would be contemplated in that area, a site should be purchased now while it is still available. The Board felt that such a possibility should be explored.

Lorraine Willis, Secretary to the Superintendent, asked for and received a raise in salary.

Father Ralph Sterbenz of St. Anthony Parish in Wells asked the school board for permission to use four classrooms in the Wells Schools for the teaching of Catechism on Fridays at 4 p. m. The secretary was authorized to write to the Michigan Superintendent of Public Instruction for an opinion regarding the use of a public school building for religious education during the school week.

Supt. Klug announced that Mrs. Lawrence Hereau of Newhall will take the janitor's job in the Newhall School. There is still a vacancy for this job in the Pioneer Ridge School.

There is also a vacancy in the job of the hot-lunch cook at the Newhall School. The Board has until the middle of September to locate a suitable person.

Salary Increase
The Board authorized Klug to hire Mrs. Laura Schallack of Soo Hill to teach grades 4-5-6 at the Newhall School.

In accordance with past Board policy, the five bus drivers and 2 substitute drivers are scheduled for physical examinations next week.

The Board voted to continue the half-day bus pickups this year if necessary.

Renewal of the school bus insurance with Clinton Groos was authorized by the Board. Builder's risk insurance will also be taken out with Groos.

The bus drivers, cooks and janitors received a 10 per cent raise in salary. The bus drivers were raised from $1400 to $1540 per year. The cooks were raised from $75 base pay per month to $82.50, and the janitors in the Newhall, Pine Ridge and Soo Hill schools from $60 to $66 per month. In Wells from $200 to $220 and a corresponding increase was given to janitors in the 1-room Bay View and Chemical Plant schools.

Brewery Walkout Over Union Dues Averted In Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—Agreement by five major Detroit breweries to discharge CIO employees delinquent in their union dues has averted a threatened strike, officers of the CIO Brewery Workers said today.

The walkout threat was an outgrowth of a long dispute among the three union locals representing 3,600 employees of Goebels, Pfeiffer, Altes, E and B and Strohs Breweries.

Eugene J. McCann, trustee for one of the locals, said about 20 per cent of the 500 members of Local 3 had failed to pay their dues.

The breweries agreed to the union's request that delinquent members be discharged by Sept. 1.

The department told her the highway patrolmen wouldn't do anything about it, except maybe grin a little.

Tourists Thick In Washington

By ED CREAGH
WASHINGTON (AP)—What's this? Only 35 million grownup Americans have been to Washington? That's what the latest Gallup Poll says. The number seems incredibly small to anybody who lives here all year round. Don't get us wrong—we love tourists. We take it as a personal compliment when they admire the Jefferson Memorial or the White House aglow with yellow lights in the summer twilight.

Four Main Classes
Our hotelkeepers and restaurant proprietors love tourists too. And there's a feeling the constant presence of peering strangers has a good influence on people in government—reminds them the United States is made up of flesh-and-blood Americans, not just zigzags on somebody's statistical charts. Tourists, in the opinion of old settlers here, fall generally into four main classes:

1. Honeymooners. You see them everywhere, strolling hand in hand. It is doubtful if they see you, however. From the sightseeing standpoint, they'd be as well off at a cabin in the woods.

2. High school kids. Conveyed by harassed teachers, they most (A) buy funny hats for souvenirs and (B) pair off in pre-honeymoon couples. Some learn a thing or two about the government.

3. Families. The late Robert Benchley said there are two ways to travel—first class and with children. There is one thing to be said in favor of seeing Washington with a couple of toddlers in tow—you get to know every restroom in every public building.

Only 35 Million?
4. The real, eyes-open sightseer. Sometimes these are schoolteachers on their own, released some-how from their clamoring packs of pupils. More often they're middle-aged couples, contentedly wandering, clicking away judiciously with a camera they couldn't afford until daughter got married and junior finished college. Only 35 million of them? It seems incredible. There must have been that many today alone—when I tried to get into the cafeteria around the corner on Pennsylvania avenue for lunch.

TWO "CHILDREN" TO CARE FOR—Ronald Cubbage, 16-year-old high school student, his 17-year-old invalid wife, Janice, and their baby, Charles, prepare to leave Miami, Fla., for Cubbage's family home in Labelle, Fla. The young couple were injured in an auto accident while on their honeymoon last January, and injury and coma leave the young bride at present with the mentality of a two- or three-year-old. A Florida judge has ordered that the young family may stay together pending a custody hearing on the baby. (NEA Telephoto)

Fighting Men Don't Think Much Of This Korean Armistice

By RELMAN MORIN

For Hal Boyle
NEW YORK (AP)—Capt. Bern Price, of the U. S. Marines, walked into the office the other day, fresh from Korea.

Naturally, I asked, "What do your guys think of the armistice?" "Not much," said Bern. "They're not satisfied to have it end this way."

He went on to say that the war could have been carried to a complete military decision—in our favor.

Went Over Twice
Coming from a Marine, of course, any other report would have been a surprise. But there is more to it than the insignia on his cap. Price had the unusual experience of serving in Korea twice, in two totally different roles.

On his first hitch, he was a correspondent. He came over early in that hot summer of 1950, covered the retreat and then the siege on the line laid down by Gen. Walker. After the North Koreans collapsed, and the war disintegrated into a pursuit and mop-up, Bern came home.

He had been in the Marines in the Second World War, however. So, a year or so ago, Uncle Sam called him and presently he was on his way back out to the old stamping ground, this time in uniform.

Always Pulled Back
In short, he has seen the war from more different angles than most of us ever could.

"What we should have done," he went on, "is smash up the Chinese defenses, and then destroy their armies in Korea."

The Chinese have boasted of their depth-defenses, presumably of his aunt, Mrs. Katherine Hughes.

a system of bunkers, trenches and emplacements going back four or five miles, solidly.

"We didn't think much of the depth defenses," he said. "Every time we punched through the outer crust, they would react quickly and pretty well. But it didn't look to us as though they had the means of moving troops and material around quickly enough to seal off a real breakthrough."

"Then why didn't we open a real offensive?" I asked Bern.

"I don't know," he said. "Nobody could make sense out of it. We would take one of our positions, and then pull back—on order."

History May Tell

He said the Marine officers reasoned that they were losing more men in the stationary war that finally developed than would have been lost in an all-out push.

"Which officers," I asked. "The Big Brass?"

"All of them," he said. "Any second lieutenant would tell you we should have been pushing instead of sitting there."

These ideas are not confined to the Marine Corps. A good many regular Army officers feel the same way.

History, alone, will show whether signing the armistice at this time was the right course to take.

Scooter Survives

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A truck loaded with eight tons of stone collided with a small motor scooter Monday.

The truck driver suffered a mashed foot.

The motor scooter driver was not hurt.

Truck Tips Over—Few Eggs Broken

PLACERVILLE, Calif. (AP)—Charles Nixon of Albert Lea, Minn., was driving a trucktrailer, carrying 600 cases of eggs.

The rig ran off the road and overturned near Kyburz on U. S. Highway 50.

But, investigating officers said only 10 per cent of the egg load was damaged in the accident.

I WAS DOOMED FOR A WHEEL CHAIR BEFORE DISCOVERING O-JIB-WA

Arthritis caused my knees to swell like balloons. Thanks to O-JIB-WA BITTERS, I am entirely better now, says Mrs. Jennie Gates, 2376 N. Cedar, Holt, Michigan.

"I am most happy to tell others of what O-JIB-WA BITTERS has done for me. I was told that nothing would ever help my arthritis and that I was doomed for a wheel chair for the rest of my life. I am entirely better now and walking perfectly again thanks to O-JIB-WA. I suffered from arthritis and sciatica for over 10 years, and had it mostly in my hips, legs and knees. Most of the time my knees were swelled like balloons and so big that you couldn't tell I had any. The only way I could move around at all was to grasp a chair or by sheer strength of my arms on a cane or crutch. I tried everything I ever heard of without success, but was determined not to give up, even though at times it was all I could do to drag my legs.

Fathers Of Flight—The Wright Brothers

By Wade Jones and Ralph Lane

Orville Wright was nearly 30 and his brother, Wilbur, four years older, when their imaginations were again stirred by the memory of the toy plane their father had given them years before. Working in their bicycle shop in Dayton, they began experimenting with gliders.

A French civil engineer named Octave Chanute provided them with aerodynamic figures whose inaccuracy, oddly, was to be one of the greatest aids to the Wrights' eventual mastery of the air.

In 1901 the Wrights built what they called a "gliding machine." They took it to the North Carolina dune country because of its prevailing winds and the hills for takeoffs. The following year their glider crashed and Orville was slightly injured.

Benefits Shrink, But Korea Veterans Get Good Service

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The man who leaves the service today with an honorable discharge is classified as a Korean veteran for purposes of the numerous benefits Uncle Sam has ready for him even if he didn't set foot outside of the United States.

And as he steps up to the cashier's window at the Veterans Administration to begin collecting what's due him he'll find that it's not quite as generous a package as his older brother got at the end of World War II.

However, in the long run he'll probably decide he came out about even because there won't be as much confusion, red tape and changes which his brother experienced in getting his benefits.

The average Korean veterans today get pretty efficient, fair treatment from VA. VA officials and employees have learned a lot about service to veterans since the hectic days just after World War II.

If today's vet does register a gripe about being short-changed it'll probably be in respect to insurance and education. The Korean veteran collected credit for a day-and-one-half of schooling for each day of service, just about what World War II men got. But he gets only a maximum of 36 months of education compared to the maximum of 48 months given WW II men.

After studying what the WW II vets used, Congress apparently decided that the reduced maximum was sufficient.

Pay during education is different, too. The single Korean vet gets $110 per month, compared to the $75 given his older brother. But he's got to pay for tuition and books out of the extra. The WW II vet got up to $500 for books and tuition, depending upon what they actually cost.

The way it works out, if a vet goes to a state university or a school charging small tuition he'll come out better than the WW II man who went to the same school. If he goes to an expensive private school he comes out on the short end of the deal.

There's disagreement about the insurance benefit due a vet today. Some say it's better. Some say it's not as good.

The law was changed to give Korean GIs a free $10,000 policy while in service. But unless they come out with some disability they can't convert their GI insurance.

Queen Asks $11,530 Monthly Alimony

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Reliable sources reported today that ex-Queen Narmir is asking 4,000 Egyptian pounds ($11,530) monthly alimony from former King Farouk.

Narmir's lawyer announced last week that she was suing Farouk for alimony. He is now in exile in Italy. Under Moslem law a wife separated from her husband is entitled to sue for alimony even though no divorce has been granted. The law also provides, however, that the husband may contest the claim and seek his wife's return.

ance into the numerous permanent types available to WW II vets. The Korean vet can keep a $10,000 five-year term policy in force. But the rates for it increase as he gets older.

And because the Korean man didn't pay for his insurance he gets no dividends.

The only other major difference between WW II and Korean veteran benefits is in unemployment compensation. The WW II "52-20" clubbers got a maximum of $20 per week for 52 weeks. The Korean veteran can get $26 per week for 26 weeks.

The rest of the VA's benefits are just about the same for both classes of veterans. They include guaranteed loans to buy a home or start a business, medical and hospital treatment, disability compensation, "wheel chair" homes for the paralyzed vets, and cars for some disabled veterans.

A vastly superior service which VA renders to Korean vets today is advice on just what benefits are due them and how to go about getting them.

This service is available at any VA office around the country. Or the information can be had by writing to the nearest VA regional office, the address of which can be obtained at any U. S. Post Office.

BAUDETTE, Minn. (AP)—Forty-six years ago the village of Baudette voted to split into two parts. The part on the east side of the Baudette River became Spooner and the portion on the west side kept the old name.

Now, in the interests of better municipal operation, they have voted to consolidate again and the name Spooner will be dropped.

Tailor's Life Savings Of $25,000 Stolen

NEW YORK (AP) — Nishan Alashaian, a Manhattan tailor, carried his life savings of $25,000 cash to work with him each day, saying he distrusted banks.

He hid it, sometimes along with a ring worth $2,300, in a baby carriage in his shop.

Monday Alashaian, an Armenian in his 50s who came to this country 20 years ago, noticed his assistant was overdue from a mid-afternoon rest break.

Alashaian went to the carriage, he later told police, and saw that his savings and the ring were gone. Police broadcast a 13-state alarm for the assistant.

MATCHED COAT-OF-ARMS

In 1632, the King of England granted to Lord Baltimore a charter to found a colony in Maryland. Settlers in the colony found an oriole that was black and yellow in plumage. These being the colors of Lord Baltimore's coat-of-arms, the settlers gave it the name of Baltimore oriole.

New Syndicate May Buy Tigers

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Times said a syndicate headed by Walter O. (Spike) Briggs, Jr. is being formed to buy the Detroit Tigers from the Briggs estate.

Two prominent Detroit businessmen, Ray Whyte and D. Lyle Fyfe, were reported associated with Briggs in the syndicate.

Both are directors of the Detroit Lions, champions of the National Pro Football League, and personal friends of Briggs.

The Times estimated the Detroit Baseball Co., which owns the Tigers, might be valued at $5,000,000.

The club, owned by the late Walter O. Briggs Sr., Detroit automotive manufacturer, was divided equally among his widow, Spike Briggs, and four daughters at his death.

"The family reportedly has opposed all ideas of selling as they looked upon the ball club and the stadium (Briggs Stadium) as a monument to the senior Briggs, one state's history," the Times said.

However, the Times added, "it is believed any opposition would be tempered by the fact young Briggs would be head of the buying group."

The Briggs sisters have been rumored "wanting out" of the Detroit Baseball Co. because of tax reasons.

Grandfather Fails In His Third Attempt To Swim Lake Erie

CEDAR POINT, Ohio (AP)—William Sadlo, 53-year-old grandfather, failed in his third attempt to swim across Lake Erie from Canada.

Sadlo, a Brooklyn, N.Y., physical education instructor, gave up his latest try Monday night just five miles short of the mark.

After 18 hours in the water Sadlo said his muscles refused to obey any longer. He had left Point Pelee, Ontario shortly after midnight Sunday.

It was his third failure in less than a month. On Aug. 3 Sadlo gave up after six hours and on Aug. 14 he fell 15 miles short.

People Of Greenland Vote For First Time

COPENHAGEN (AP)—The people of Greenland, Denmark's huge Arctic colony, voted Tuesday for the first time in their history.

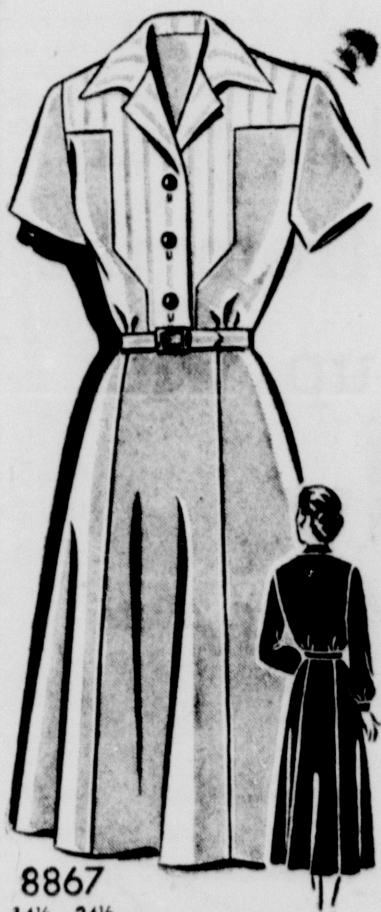

About 9,000 voters are to pick two members of Denmark's first unicameral Parliament, provided for in the new Constitution adopted last May. Seven out of eight candidates are native Greenlanders. The eighth is a Danish woman doctor.

Because of the long distances and slow communications, it may be a week before all returns are in.

General elections for the new Parliament are to take place in Denmark next month.

Korean Women Keep Vigil For Their POW's

By FRED SPARKS
NEA Staff Correspondent

Young and old alike, the people of South Korea await, as do you, the return of their loved ones from Red prisoner-of-war camps to the north. But, in a country torn and more than decimated by three years of war, the thing that hits one hardest is the plight of the women—mothers, daughters, sweethearts. Women everywhere, waiting Women, young and old, waiting in the ruins, and on the streets of Seoul. Waiting, in hope—in anguish—in love. Until the last prisoner is exchanged. Until there is no more chance. Until there is only hopeless hope.

Impassiveness of a child—patience of the years.

Her face mirrors skepticism—her heart still believes.

She still has the children, and the hope—what matters that home and all her worldly goods are gone?

He's not in this group—but, maybe—the next?

Baby Hangs On

SNOWFLAKE, Ariz. (AP)—Elwood Peterson said a guardian angel must have been along on the 12-mile ride after he found his 17-month-old son clinging to the door handle of his pickup truck as he drove through here.

How Bobby Lynn Peterson managed to ride the running board for that distance and how he got on the car in the first place was a mystery to Peterson.

MAKE NO BONES ABOUT IT — Automobile traffic is dangerous today—and doubly so during holiday periods, such as the forthcoming Labor Day weekend. So bear in mind that your car—or some other driver's—can be a "Misguided Missile." This arresting traffic accident warning was erected near the main gate of Scott Field, near East St. Louis, Ill., for the benefit of airmen leaving the base on passes and furloughs.

MANISTIQUE

Says Service Is Now Good

"Your service in Manistique is now good telephone service," members of City Council were told Monday evening by Herbert F. Emery, of Muskegon, division manager of General Telephone Company of Michigan.

Emery appeared at the council session in accordance with a previous agreement to report on progress made by the utility in improving its local service. He was accompanied by Hugh Kennedy, of Manistique, district manager.

Emery briefed councilmen on General Telephone Company financing and rates and said that he would be pleased to meet with them in special session to explain more fully the utility's financial structure and how it affects proposed improvements in various exchanges.

He said the company could install dial phones in all of its exchanges if it had been granted a requested rate increase to provide additional income of $2,200,000. The increase approved by the Public Service Commission, he said, amounted to only $660,000.

"If we could get a 6.6 per cent return on our capital investment we would have dial phones in Manistique within the next 10 years," Emery said. As it is, he said, company income is now used for operational expenses; improvements have to be paid for from borrowings, and the company can pay only two percent, a figure that discourages investors.

Emery told councilmen that toll service out of Manistique had been improved by re-routing many calls through Escanaba instead of St. Ignace.

Councilman James H. Fyvie directed attention to the fact that the city's initial protest—that promises made by the utility at a Public Service Commission hearing here a year ago had not been kept—had become obscured in the deluge of complaints about service. Among promises not kept, he said, was failure of the telephone company to install a switchboard equipped with automatic ringing facilities.

Two months ago the council, deluged with complaints about service, decided to present its case to the Public Service Commission but later agreed to withhold formal protest until the utility had a month's opportunity to improve the service. Later this was extended another month.

Utility officials at that time told the city that much of the poor service was caused by insufficient trained switchboard help, stating this condition would be solved in a few months.

Following the conference Monday night with telephone company officials the council decided to let the matter rest for the time being.

Sewer On Intake Road Will Cost Lot Owners $227

Installation of a new sewer on Intake Road will cost benefiting property owners only $227, a figure considerably less than initially estimated, it was reported at a regular City Council meeting Monday night by Orson Livermore, acting city manager.

A final resolution ordering spreading of the cost to property owners was approved by the council.

Procedures required in organizing special assessment districts were explained to councilmen by William Hood, city attorney, who also distributed copies of the information to city officials, including the clerk and assessor.

In other actions the council rejected all bids on city property, told the city clerk to inform Fred Christensen he did not need a building permit to erect a motel at the west city limits because the site was not in the municipal fire zone, discussed an amendment to the city cemetery ordinance to provide for uniform tablet markers, and again talked over the need for more rigid enforcement of traffic laws in the city, including double parking, running stop signs and speeding.

Shingleton Man Pleads Not Guilty To Topsy Driving

Alex Sherwood, of Shingleton, arraigned yesterday in local justice court on a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicants, pleaded not guilty and demanded trial which was set for Sept. 2. He posted a cash bond of $200.

Sherwood was involved in an accident Sunday in Germfask. Complaint against him was signed by Kenneth McDonald, of Grand Marais.

Water And Sewer Services Sought On 6th, 7th Streets

Installation of water and sewer services on Sixth and Seventh streets, long sought by residents there, will be given immediate study by the city manager, it was decided at a regular meeting of Manistique City Council Monday night.

Another request for the services was voiced at the session by Mrs. Ray DeRousha, who lives at the corner of Sixth and Deer streets. Lack of sewage facilities, Mrs. DeRousha pointed out, has created a health problem in the area because the swampy condition of the soil makes it impossible to install septic tanks. Thirteen families live on the two short streets.

Councilmen stated that failure of the city to make the water and sewer installation previously on a special assessment basis due to low property values in the district. The approach to the project this time, it was decided, will be from a public health angle, with the city participating in the cost.

Urge Protest On Train Removal

Public protests against proposed removal of Sunday Soo Line trains are being advocated by the Top O' Lake Michigan Chamber of Commerce, it was reported at a regular City Council meeting Monday night by Fred D. Heltman, chamber secretary.

Heltman, stating that removal of the two Sunday trains would be a hardship for Manistique, urged the council to join in submitting protests against the action. He said that both Lions and Rotary clubs and possibly other organizations would be requested to file similar protests.

He said that virtually all communities affected by the proposed train cancellation would undoubtedly join in the protest action. Sault Ste. Marie, he said, already has lodged formal opposition to the move.

Heltman also urged that the council give some thought to the need of public dockage facilities in Manistique harbor, declaring that at least three yachts during the summer were unable to find dockage here.

Many Lake Michigan yachts, he said, would visit Manistique and purchase supplies here if suitable dockage were available.

The Council later ordered a letter of protest written.

Eleven Pitchers Have Hopes Of Joining 20-Victory Circle

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

At least 11 pitchers still nurse hopes of joining Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies as 20th winners this season, but most of them will need luck.

With less than five weeks to play, even Roberts, who won 28 last year, posted victory No. 21 Tuesday night. He held Milwaukee to five hits for a 6-1 decision.

Closest to him in either league is lefty Warren Spahn of the Braves, who won his 18th Sunday.

Five of the other 10 hopefuls worked Tuesday night. Carl Erskine of Brooklyn, Gerry Staley of the St. Louis Cardinals and Bob Porterfield of Washington all won their 16th games. Billy Pierce of the Chicago White Sox failed in his bid for No. 17 and Bob Lemon of Cleveland was beaten trying for his 18th.

Braves Split

Harvey Haddix of the Cardinals goes after his 17th victory today against the New York Giants. The others with a chance all are in the American League—Mel Parnell of Boston and Virgil Trucks of Chicago with 17 each and Whitey Ford of New York and Mike Garcia of Cleveland with 15 apiece.

Roberts' success Tuesday night enabled the Braves to break even since the Braves took the second game 6-2. Brooklyn split a pair

Gavilan Slips; But How Much?

NEW YORK (AP)—There's no doubt that Weltweit Champion Kid Gavilan is slipping but the big question is how much.

Ralph (Tiger) Jones, the Yankees, N.Y., Negro middleweight, will try to supply the answer tonight when he faces the 147-pound champion in a nontitle 10-rounder in Madison Square Garden. The 8 p. m. (CST) bout will be telecast by CBS.

Gavilan is a 2-1 favorite but the rugged 25-year-old Jones is unbeaten in his last seven fights. Jones holds two wins over Danny (Bang Bang) Womber, who scored the ring upset of the year May 2 when he defeated the overconfident Kid.

Since that loss, Gavilan has scored decisions over Italo Scorticini and Ramon Puentes. He wasn't any ball of fire in either bout. The Cuban Flash, now 27, generally doesn't like to gl all out unless the big chips are on the line.

In the American League, the Yankees picked up a game on the White Sox and now lead by 9½. New York edged Detroit 6-3 in 11 innings. Chicago lost to Philadelphia 4-2. Washington beat Cleveland 8-4. Boston and St. Louis weren't scheduled.

Mathews Gets No. 40

Eddie Mathews of Milwaukee hit his 40th home run in the first game off Roberts. In the nightcap Lew Burdette, who already had the best percentage record in the league, won his 13th against two losses.

Erskine owed his success against Chicago to Jackie Robinson's two home runs. The Brooklyn pitcher was lifted for a pinch hitter while trailing 4-1 but the man who batted for him, Wayne Belardi, started a rally which netted five runs — three of them on a home run by Robinson. In the first game, Clyde McCullough doubled home one run and homered with one on for the other two as the Cubs won their first game in Brooklyn this season.

Staley found things easy at the Polo Grounds, where the fumbling Giants committed five errors. Ruben Gomez tamed the Cardinals on four hits for his 11th victory and third shutout in the opener.

Clutch home runs by Bob Borkowski in the first game and Roy McMillan in the second gave Cincinnati a sweep at Pittsburgh. The Pirates became the first club in either league to lose 90 games this year.

Detroit stayed on even terms with the world champions through 10 innings but the Yanks pushed across four in the 11th, three on a bases-loaded, two-out double by Gil McDougald.

Pierce was beaten by home runs by a pair of former Chicago teammates, Gus Zernial and Dave Philley. Zernial hit two, one of them with a man aboard, and Philley hit one. The White Sox managed only two hits, singles by Nelli Fox and Sherm Lollar, off Joe Coleman and Morris Martin.

Porterfield bested Lemon with the help of some heavy Washington hitting in the first and four innings. Jim Busby hit a three-run homer in the first.

Spartan Story Like Personal Success Tale Of Biggie Munn

EDITORS — This is the first of a series of three stories on the past, present and probable future of the national champion Michigan State football team. AP sports writer Bob Voiges has been covering MSC since Coach Biggie Munn took over in 1947.

By ROBERT E. VOGES

EAST LANSING (AP)—The story of Michigan State football is the personal success story of Coach Clarence H. (Bergie) Munn.

When Munn moved to East Lansing in 1947, Michigan State was a poor relation as far as football was concerned.

The fast-growing agricultural college could boast of some good football years but never had known national renown.

Bergie started building and, after stumbling a few times at first, finally succeeded in putting together the nation's top football machine.

24 In A Row

Michigan State lost only one game in 1950. In 1951 and 1952, the Spartans went unbeaten and now have won 24 in a row.

The Spartans were acclaimed national champions last year. Once again this fall it looks as though they're the top team in the nation.

Munn was selected for "coach of the year" honors last season. This year, he's leading MSC into official Western Conference football competition for the first time. The shiny goal ahead is the Rose Bowl.

A native of Minneapolis, Munn fits anybody's idea of what a former All-America football player should look like.

Munn was named to the Associated Press honor team when playing guard for Minnesota in 1931. He picked up the nickname "Bergie" because there was a professional wrestler—no relation—named "Bergie" Munn.

Gives Up 94 Hits

When Herbert returned from the Army he had trouble finding the plate but the experts agreed this was due to the lack of actual major league competition.

Herbert has a 3-6 record—which isn't bad. But he's given up 94 hits in 65 2-3 innings—which is very bad.

His earned run average has climbed to 4.50, compared to 1.38 two years ago.

What's his trouble?

We're not sure but we've heard more than once that Herbert isn't the type of player to drive him-

Familiar Fem Golf Names Pop Up Again In Amateur Tourney

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—A few prominent feminine golfing names, which somehow had escaped their usual amount of attention during the first few days, popped up again today as the 53rd U. S. Women's Amateur Golf Tournament got down to 32 players.

In the early excitement over such new stars as Marlene Stewart, Pat Lesser and Barbara Romack, the experts and galleryites alike seemed to forget about the 1951 champion Dorothy Kirby and such rugged contenders as Polly Riley and Mary Lena Faulk.

But as the girls went into the fourth round today, the chances of this trio looked very good.

Miss Kirby could show victories by margins of 7 and 5, 6 and 4, and 5 and 3. The last two were against very strong rivals, Edean Anderson and Pat Devany.

Yankee Pitchers Hold Edge On Shutouts

NEW YORK (AP)—It'll be the highly-effective New York Yankee pitching staff against the highly-destructive Brooklyn Dodger batters when, and if, the teams clash in the World Series this fall.

Yankee hurlers have accounted for 17 shutouts, the highest total in the major leagues. On the other hand, the power-laden Dodgers have been blanked only once, the lowest total in either circuit. Associated Press statistics showed today. The Yankees lead the American League pennant race by nine and a half games and the Dodgers the National by nine.

Time Running Out For Musial's Bat

NEW YORK (AP)—Stan Musial, six-time National League batting champion, hasn't given up hope of adding this year's title to his collection, but he fears time may be running out on him.

The great St. Louis Cardinals' outfielder, with only 30 games remaining, finds himself 25 points behind teammate Red Schoendienst.

Musial, owner of a 346 lifetime mark that began back in 1941, is currently batting .315.

LaBrasseur Named Flint Track Coach

George LaBrasseur, former Bark River High School coach, has been promoted to head track coach at Flint Central High School. He was assistant football coach and assistant baseball coach the past year. He will continue as assistant baseball coach at Central.

Three Golfers Voted Into Hall Of Fame

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's sportswriters and sportscasters have voted Byron Nelson, Ben Hogan and Sam Snead into the PGA hall of fame.

They were selected from a list of 11 outstanding golfers nominated by a special PGA committee.

Bad Luck Of Tigers Lies Partly In Bullpen

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT (AP)—Looking for just one more reason why the Detroit Tigers are a seventh-place team, instead of contending for the first division?

If so, just glance out to the bullpen where a 22-year-old righthander named Ray Herbert has been a big disappointment.

All last winter you kept hearing:

"Ray Herbert is getting out of the Army... He'll help the Tigers... the kid has a lot of promise."

Herbert had a 4-0 record for the Tigers in 1951, with a glittering earned run average of 1.38. All of his wins came in relief—just where the Tigers needed the most help.

Two Batters Flog

With the score tied 2-2 in the 11th, the Yankees filled the bases. Gene Woodling drew a pass when Herbert threw a fourth ball wide of the plate.

Moments later, Gil McDougald cleaned the bases with a three-run double and the Yanks had their eighth straight extra-inning victory.

In the 10th inning, the Tigers loaded the bases with one out and Yankee left Bob Kuzava had to face Walt Dropp and Steve Souchock. A fly ball of reasonable depth would have scored the winning run.

Dropp fouled out.

Souchock worked the count to 3 and 2. He fouled off two pitches but let the third one fly past him for a called strike.

That was the turning point.

League Chief Suspends Knauf

H. Roy Bagley, of Wilson, commissioner of the Tri-County baseball league, announced this morning that he has suspended Leo Knauf of Bark River for the balance of the season for unsportsmanlike conduct on the Bark River diamond last Sunday during the Bark River-Powers baseball game.

The game was the first game of two out of three playoff series for the Tri-County league championship.

At the conclusion of the eighth inning of the game, Knauf struck Ted Faser of Powers, touching off a melee that delayed the game for about 15 minutes.

Bark River won the game, 9-6. The two teams are scheduled to play at Powers Sunday in the second game of the series. Commissioner Bagley said that law enforcement officers will be on hand to maintain order.

Prep Football Season Is Near

LANSING (AP)—Dates for a dozen regional football rules committee meetings were announced today by the State High School Athletic Association.

The football season will get underway for nearly 30,000 prepsters in some 500 Michigan high schools with the start of practice Aug. 31 in the Lower Peninsula.

Practice started Aug. 10 in the Upper Peninsula.

With three weeks of practice required before the first game can be played, Upper Peninsula schools can schedule their opening contest for Aug. 28 or 29.

In the Lower Peninsula, first games are scheduled for Sept. 18 or 19.

Louisville Climbs Close Behind Toledo

By The Associated Press

Lefty Bill Kennedy pitched the Louisville Colonels to a 7-0 victory over Columbus Tuesday night, pushing the Colonels to within three games of the leading Toledo Sox.

The Sox lost to Minneapolis 5-4. Kansas City beat Charleston 6-3 and St. Paul routed Indianapolis 11-4.

Flaring tempers featured St. Paul's battering of Indianapolis. Saint Manager Clay Bryant and outfielder Ray Coleman were tossed out of the game in the eighth inning for dugout jockeying and first baseman Ted Bartz was ejected for taking a swing at Indianapolis pitcher Tom Ferriek.

Veteran Sacker Ryan Sold To White Sox

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Connie Ryan, 33-year-old veteran infielder whom the Philadelphia Phillies acquired from Cincinnati in 1951, has been sold to the Chicago White Sox for an undisclosed amount of cash.

Ryan's sale was announced Tuesday. He broke into the National League with the Boston Braves in 1943, and played second base in the All-Star game the following year when he hit .295, his best season with the bat.

Seals Held Hitless For 14 1/3 Innings

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Seals went hitless 14-1/3 consecutive innings Tuesday night — 43 batters retired in order.

Oakland righthander Jim Atkins hurled a 2-0 no-hitter in the seven-inning opener of the Pacific Coast League doubleheader.

Then Don Ferrarese went 7 1-3 innings in the nightcap before giving a single to Reno Ches. The Oaks won it 7-1, with the Seals managing two more hits.

Yakima Wins First Legion Series Tilt

HASTINGS, Neb. (AP)—Big Tom Gibson held the Richmond, Calif., American Legion junior baseballers to three hits Tuesday night and his Yakima, Wash., team won, 5-2.

The game was the first of the final series in the Legion sectional tourney here. A win for Yakima over Richmond tonight would send the Washington team to the Legion's Little World Series in Miami. A Richmond win would force another game between the two.

Princess Pat Stakes Rich Race Today

CHICAGO (AP)—Unparalleled riches beckoned 15 members of racing's distaff side to today's Princess Pat Stakes at Washington Park.

If all 15 overnight starters go to the post, the race will gross $109,490 with the winner's share $70,320. The six-furlong gallop is the richest race ever held for 2-year-old fillies.

Winner of Arlington Park's Lassie Stakes and favored in the Princess Pat is Hasty House Farm's Queen Hopeful, a five-time first-placer who has earned $87,103 in her eight starts.

DOUBLEHEADER

Clairmont's will play a doubleheader tonight at Memorial Field. Westby's will provide the opposition in the 7:15 opener and Clairmont's will take on Anderson Brothers of Ensign in the second game.

Ballot On Bingo To Be Nov. 3

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit voters will get a chance to say at the polls whether they favor changing Michigan's Constitution to legalize bingo and raffles for charitable purposes.

The Common Council decided Monday to include the question in the Nov. 3 ballot. Councilmen emphasized that the vote would be strictly advisory.

Voters will be asked: "Do you favor amending the Constitution and laws of Michigan to permit bingo games and raffles for patriotic, charitable, social, religious and other non-profit purposes?"

Council President Louis C. Miriani said results of the vote should serve as a guide to the state Legislature "in determining any changes in the Constitution."

Miriani said he considered it a "good thing to see what the people really think on the matter."

The controversy over bingo and raffles has been going in Michigan for several months.

Recently Circuit Judge Frank Fitzgerald ruled that the big auto raffle sponsored annually by Detroit firemen at their field day was legal.

Civic Center Planned

FLINT (AP)—A six-block area at the edge of Flint's business district is the site proposed for a $5,000,000 civic center by Robert Moses, head of the New York City Planning Commission. Moses was invited by Flint officials to look over possible sites for a city hall. Any proposal would have to be put to a vote before action could be taken.
